Lucía and Nuria win Eco-efficiency Awards

We have winners in the first edition of the Eco-efficiency Awards. They are Lucía Monforte Guillot, from FCC Construction's Environment Department (on the left in the photo), and Nuria Caba i Calbet, from the Greater Barcelona office of the Environment Division (on the right). Lucía's prize was for a sustainable mobility plan for a responsible company, while Nuria designed a system for better lawn management to optimise the use of irrigation water.

Colleagues who communicate by sign language

Jovica Milic (28) is a Serbian employee of .A.S.A whose lack of hearing does not prevent him from playing his role in the team. His colleagues have learned sign language to be able to communicate with him, and Jovica feels at home as a member of .A.S.A.

THE COMPANY

The Code of Ethics is increasingly accessible to FCC people

FCC has established a confidential channel on the intranet and by postal mail (Apdo. 19312, 28080 Madrid) to enable employees to make confidential reports on breaches of the Code of Ethics without fear of reprisals. The Group has also implemented a plan to raise awareness and provide training on the Code of Ethics.
